These days many students and workers complain that they never have enough time to accomplish tasks. The hours and minutes seem to slip away before many planned chores get done. According to time management experts, the main reason for this is that most people fail to set priorities about what to do first. They get tied down by trivial, time-consuming matters and never complete the important ones. One simple solution often used by those at the top is to keep lists of tasks to be accomplished daily and check them regularly through the day.

Fast food restaurants work hard to get more and more customers. Big lights and TV advertisements are not enough. The waitresses wear special uniforms, there are lots of big mirrors and bright colours. Many of the fast food places have special offers for families, and do their best to attract children and teenagers. Some even organize children's birthday parties. For busy mothers with no ideas and plenty of money, a birthday party at McDonald's can save a lot of time and trouble.

A breakthrough in computer design could lead to computer technology being available in the poorest parts of the world. An IT company has developed a laptop computer that will only cost 100 dollars. It has all the functions of an ordinary computer including WiFi and 1 GB of storage. Since the price will be low, the designers hope that the laptop will be available to children in poorer parts of the world. The computer is powered by turning a handle and, * ____, it does not need an electricity supply or batteries. This should make it even more attractive to schools in the developing world.

32. ENERGY CRISIS?

Did you know that the world population grows at a quarter of a million people per day? This, of course, increases the overall (example) consumption of energy. Our world is probably going to an energy crisis in the not-too-distant future. For the time being there are supplies of oil. But this situation cannot forever. Oil supplies are finite, and what happens when the world's are exhausted? There is a world-wide search new sources of energy.

In Great Britain, the people are fortunate. They have North Sea oil and , and these will give them self-sufficiency for another couple of decades. They also have amount of coal. According to some , Britain's coal supplies could last for another sixty years. That should give them a breathing space at least alternative sources of energy are developed.
